The product you receive is considered an "Article" under the REACH legislation and therefore must meet certain criteria before registration and/or notification requirements are imposed. These criteria include: 1) anticipated exposure to humans or the environment during use and disposal (for Substances of Very High Concern); 2) intended release of the Substance under normal conditions of use; and 3) use of a Substance or Substance of Very High Concern in certain concentrations and certain quantities. We are pleased to inform you that because the products that you purchase do not meet the specified criteria, there is no REACH registration or notification requirement with respect to these product(s).

Please note that we are making these representations solely to you and not to, or for reliance by, your customers or any third party.

We appreciate your business and continued confidence in nVent Thermal LLC and we look forward to continuing our relationship with you.

Sincerely,

Sally Hemaya
